I can study Turkish art to find pattern and form.
I can make guesses about the purpose of the artwork I am studying.

The Turkish art piece I am studying has a pattern that looks like this:

The forms that make up this pattern are ______________________________

__________________________________________

This art object is a ________________________________

I think it was used for ________________________________